

SEMINAR REPORT ON

NAME OF THE SEMINAR

Submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the award of the degree of

Bachelor of Technology

In

Computer Science And Engineering

By

Student 1

Register Number

FEDERAL INSTITUTE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY (FISAT)

ANGAMALY-683577, ERNAKULAM (DIST)

Affiliated to

APJAbdul Kalam Technological University

CET Campus, Thiruvananthapuram

November 2018

FEDERAL INSTITUTE OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY (FISAT) Mookkannor(P.O), Angamaly-683577

CERTIFICATE

This is to certify that seminar report titled Seminar Topic is a bonafide work carried out by Student 1 in partial fulfilment for the award of Bachelor of Technology in Computer Science and Engineering from Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, Kerala during the academic year 2014-2015.

Staff In-charge

Head of the Department

Place:

Date:

ABSTRACT

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Morbi urna mauris, sagittis sit amet aliquet ut, facilisis et nibh. Praesent turpistortor, dignissim ut interdum eu, porttitor ut orci. Curabitur laoreet malesuada fermentum. In posuere, purus eu pulvinar luctus, eros urna tempor magna, eu tincidunt erat eros nec turpis. Vestibulum at semper lacus. Nullam tristique lacus vel nibh porta a vehicula tellus volutpat. Pellentesque cursus ullamcorper ante, ut eleifend nisl aliquam id. Nulla porta ornare fermentum. Aliquam id magna sed erat malesuada viverra. Donec non mauris eros, nec egestas ligula. Suspendisse eu tempor ligula. Aliquam egestas nulla vel augue iaculis iaculis nec in risus. Pellentesque habitant morbi tristique senectus et netus et malesuada fames ac turpis egestas. Praesent malesuada fringilla sapien a faucibus.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Morbi urna mauris, sagittis sit amet aliquet ut, facilisis et nibh. Praesent turpistortor, dignissim ut interdum eu, porttitor ut orci. Curabitur laoreet malesuada fermentum. In posuere, purus eu pulvinar luctus, eros urna tempor magna, eu tincidunt erat eros nec turpis. Vestibulum at semper lacus. Nullam tristique lacus vel nibh porta a vehicula tellus volutpat. Pellentesque cursus ullamcorper ante, ut eleifend nisl aliquam id. Nulla porta ornare fermentum. Aliquam id magna sed erat malesuada viverra. Donec non mauris eros, nec egestas ligula. Suspendisse eu tempor ligula. Aliquam egestas nulla vel augue iaculis iaculis nec in risus. Pellentesque habitant morbi tristique senectus et netus et malesuada fames ac turpis egestas. Praesent malesuada fringilla sapien a faucibus.

CONTENTS

List of Figures	i
List of Tables	ii
1 Introduction	1
1.1 Overview	1
2 Related Works	3
3 System Analysis	4
3.1 Proof of concept	4
3.1.1 Need of proof of concept	5
3.1.2 Design of proof of concept	5
3.1.3 Study of existing system	5
3.1.4 Study of proposed system	5
3.2 Requirement Specification	5
3.2.1 Recommended system requirements	5
3.2.2 Hardware And Software Requirements	6
4 Design	7
4.1 Introduction	7
4.1.1 Elements of Design	8
4.1.2 Logical Design	8
4.1.3 Physical Design	8
4.1.4 Code Design	8
4.2 Design of Modules	8
5 Implementation And Testing	9
5.1 Implementation	9
5.1.1 Introduction	9
5.1.2 Running procedure	10
5.1.3 Implementation plan	10
5.1.4 Area of implementation	10
5.2 Testing	10
5.2.1 Unit Testing	10
5.2.2 Integrated Testing	10
5.2.3 System Testing	11

5.2.4	Acceptance Testing	11
5.2.5	Test Plan	11
6	Conclusion And Future Work	12
	APPENDIX	14

LIST OF FIGURES

6.1	First sample figure	13
6.2	Second sample figure	13

LIST OF TABLES

6.1	Example table	12
6.2	Another example table	13

Chapter 1

Introduction

The text for this example dissertation is taken from the Graduate Studies web site¹. Please read through it carefully to make sure that your dissertation/thesis meets the university requirements.

For information and assistance in the preparation of your thesis or dissertation, please contact the Student Affairs Coordinator responsible for your program. You must make an appointment with the Student Affairs Coordinator in order to file your thesis or dissertation.

You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis in the proper format. The thesis or dissertation must be accompanied by either the University Library Questionnaire (master's students) or the UMI Doctoral Dissertation Agreement form (Ph.D. students) on which you indicate your willingness either to have the University supply copies of your thesis to interested persons immediately, or that such permission should be withheld for a period of time, up to as maximum of three years.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record. If your manuscript is a doctoral dissertation, you have the choice of submitting either your entire manuscript or only your dissertation abstract to University Microfilms International (UMI) Dissertation Publishing. Both options provide higher visibility of your achievements. If you submit your entire dissertation to UMI, it will be returned to Shields Library where it will be bound and stored. The packet of information that was sent to you when we returned your approved candidacy form contained the forms you need to submit with your manuscript.

1.1 Overview

Consult the calendar for the dates to file your thesis or dissertation at Graduate Studies. The dates are also printed in the General Catalog. You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis or dissertation in the proper form.

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate

¹Please see <http://gradstudies.ucdavis.edu/students/filing.html> for the latest information.

Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty².

²Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

Chapter 2

Related Works

The text for this example dissertation is taken from the Graduate Studies web site¹. Please read through it carefully to make sure that your dissertation/thesis meets the university requirements.

For information and assistance in the preparation of your thesis or dissertation, please contact the Student Affairs Coordinator responsible for your program. You must make an appointment with the Student Affairs Coordinator in order to file your thesis or dissertation.

You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis in the proper format. The thesis or dissertation must be accompanied by either the University Library Questionnaire (master's students) or the UMI Doctoral Dissertation Agreement form (Ph.D. students) on which you indicate your willingness either to have the University supply copies of your thesis to interested persons immediately, or that such permission should be withheld for a period of time, up to as maximum of three years.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record. If your manuscript is a doctoral dissertation, you have the choice of submitting either your entire manuscript or only your dissertation abstract to University Microfilms International (UMI) Dissertation Publishing. Both options provide higher visibility of your achievements. If you submit your entire dissertation to UMI, it will be returned to Shields Library where it will be bound and stored. The packet of information that was sent to you when we returned your approved candidacy form contained the forms you need to submit with your manuscript.

¹Please see <http://gradstudies.ucdavis.edu/students/filing.html> for the latest information.

Chapter 3

System Analysis

The text for this example dissertation is taken from the Graduate Studies web site¹. Please read through it carefully to make sure that your dissertation/thesis meets the university requirements.

For information and assistance in the preparation of your thesis or dissertation, please contact the Student Affairs Coordinator responsible for your program. You must make an appointment with the Student Affairs Coordinator in order to file your thesis or dissertation.

You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis in the proper format. The thesis or dissertation must be accompanied by either the University Library Questionnaire (master's students) or the UMI Doctoral Dissertation Agreement form (Ph.D. students) on which you indicate your willingness either to have the University supply copies of your thesis to interested persons immediately, or that such permission should be withheld for a period of time, up to as maximum of three years.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record. If your manuscript is a doctoral dissertation, you have the choice of submitting either your entire manuscript or only your dissertation abstract to University Microfilms International (UMI) Dissertation Publishing. Both options provide higher visibility of your achievements. If you submit your entire dissertation to UMI, it will be returned to Shields Library where it will be bound and stored. The packet of information that was sent to you when we returned your approved candidacy form contained the forms you need to submit with your manuscript.

3.1 Proof of concept

Consult the calendar for the dates to file your thesis or dissertation at Graduate Studies. The dates are also printed in the General Catalog. You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis or dissertation in the proper form.

¹Please see <http://gradstudies.ucdavis.edu/students/filing.html> for the latest information.

3.1.1 Need of proof of concept

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty².

3.1.2 Design of proof of concept

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty³.

3.1.3 Study of existing system

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty⁴.

3.1.4 Study of proposed system

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

3.2 Requirement Specification

Consult the calendar for the dates to file your thesis or dissertation at Graduate Studies. The dates are also printed in the General Catalog. You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis or dissertation in the proper form.

3.2.1 Recommended system requirements

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

²Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

³Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

⁴Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty⁵.

3.2.2 Hardware And Software Requirements

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

⁵Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

Chapter 4

Design

The text for this example dissertation is taken from the Graduate Studies web site¹. Please read through it carefully to make sure that your dissertation/thesis meets the university requirements.

For information and assistance in the preparation of your thesis or dissertation, please contact the Student Affairs Coordinator responsible for your program. You must make an appointment with the Student Affairs Coordinator in order to file your thesis or dissertation.

You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis in the proper format. The thesis or dissertation must be accompanied by either the University Library Questionnaire (master's students) or the UMI Doctoral Dissertation Agreement form (Ph.D. students) on which you indicate your willingness either to have the University supply copies of your thesis to interested persons immediately, or that such permission should be withheld for a period of time, up to as maximum of three years.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record. If your manuscript is a doctoral dissertation, you have the choice of submitting either your entire manuscript or only your dissertation abstract to University Microfilms International (UMI) Dissertation Publishing. Both options provide higher visibility of your achievements. If you submit your entire dissertation to UMI, it will be returned to Shields Library where it will be bound and stored. The packet of information that was sent to you when we returned your approved candidacy form contained the forms you need to submit with your manuscript.

4.1 Introduction

Consult the calendar for the dates to file your thesis or dissertation at Graduate Studies. The dates are also printed in the General Catalog. You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis or dissertation in the proper form.

¹Please see <http://gradstudies.ucdavis.edu/students/filing.html> for the latest information.

4.1.1 Elements of Design

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty².

4.1.2 Logical Design

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty³.

4.1.3 Physical Design

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty⁴.

4.1.4 Code Design

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

4.2 Design of Modules

Consult the calendar for the dates to file your thesis or dissertation at Graduate Studies. The dates are also printed in the General Catalog. You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis or dissertation in the proper form.

²Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

³Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

⁴Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

Chapter 5

Implementation And Testing

The text for this example dissertation is taken from the Graduate Studies web site¹. Please read through it carefully to make sure that your dissertation/thesis meets the university requirements.

For information and assistance in the preparation of your thesis or dissertation, please contact the Student Affairs Coordinator responsible for your program. You must make an appointment with the Student Affairs Coordinator in order to file your thesis or dissertation.

You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis in the proper format. The thesis or dissertation must be accompanied by either the University Library Questionnaire (master's students) or the UMI Doctoral Dissertation Agreement form (Ph.D. students) on which you indicate your willingness either to have the University supply copies of your thesis to interested persons immediately, or that such permission should be withheld for a period of time, up to as maximum of three years.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record. If your manuscript is a doctoral dissertation, you have the choice of submitting either your entire manuscript or only your dissertation abstract to University Microfilms International (UMI) Dissertation Publishing. Both options provide higher visibility of your achievements. If you submit your entire dissertation to UMI, it will be returned to Shields Library where it will be bound and stored. The packet of information that was sent to you when we returned your approved candidacy form contained the forms you need to submit with your manuscript.

5.1 Implementation

5.1.1 Introduction

Consult the calendar for the dates to file your thesis or dissertation at Graduate Studies. The dates are also printed in the General Catalog. You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis or dissertation in the proper form.

¹Please see <http://gradstudies.ucdavis.edu/students/filing.html> for the latest information.

5.1.2 Running procedure

Area of implementation

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty².

5.1.3 Implementation plan

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty³.

5.1.4 Area of implementation

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty⁴.

5.2 Testing

5.2.1 Unit Testing

Consult the calendar for the dates to file your thesis or dissertation at Graduate Studies. The dates are also printed in the General Catalog. You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis or dissertation in the proper form.

5.2.2 Integrated Testing

Area of implementation

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

²Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

³Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

⁴Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty⁵.

5.2.3 System Testing

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

There are many valuable references available to assist students in preparing and writing research papers and theses [1–3]. Listed below are references that have been suggested by students and faculty⁶.

5.2.4 Acceptance Testing

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

5.2.5 Test Plan

You should be guided on matters of style by the chair and members of your thesis committee. Graduate Studies is not concerned with the form of the bibliography, appendix, footnotes, etc. as long as they are done in some acceptable, consistent and recognized manner approved by your committee.

⁵Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

⁶Be sure to search the internet for additional writing resources.

Chapter 6

Conclusion And Future Work

The text for this example dissertation is taken from the Graduate Studies web site¹. Please read through it carefully to make sure that your dissertation/thesis meets the university requirements.

For information and assistance in the preparation of your thesis or dissertation, please contact the Student Affairs Coordinator responsible for your program. You must make an appointment with the Student Affairs Coordinator in order to file your thesis or dissertation.

You are responsible for observing the filing dates and for preparing the thesis in the proper format. The thesis or dissertation must be accompanied by either the University Library Questionnaire (master's students) or the UMI Doctoral Dissertation Agreement form (Ph.D. students) on which you indicate your willingness either to have the University supply copies of your thesis to interested persons immediately, or that such permission should be withheld for a period of time, up to as maximum of three years.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record. If your manuscript is a doctoral dissertation, you have the choice of submitting either your entire manuscript or only your dissertation abstract to University Microfilms International (UMI) Dissertation Publishing. Both options provide higher visibility of your achievements. If you submit your entire dissertation to UMI, it will be returned to Shields Library where it will be bound and stored. The packet of information that was sent to you when we returned your approved candidacy form contained the forms you need to submit with your manuscript.

One	Two
Three	Four

Table 6.1. An example of a table. Notice the caption is centered except when it runs longer than a single line on the page.

¹Please see <http://gradstudies.ucdavis.edu/students/filing.html> for the latest information.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record.

One	Two
Three	Four

Table 6.2. Another example of a table.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record.

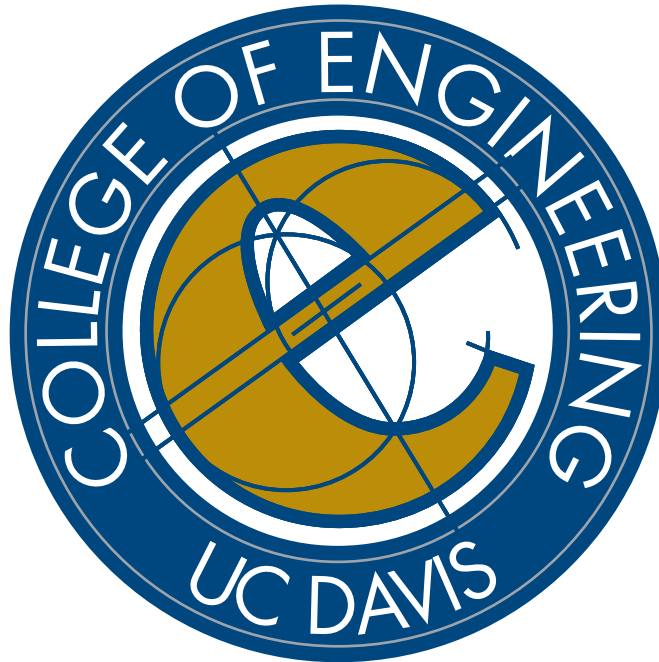

Figure 6.1. A sample figure.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record.

Figure 6.2. A reduced version of the sample figure.

Filing your dissertation or thesis is the last step in the process leading to the awarding of your degree. The final copy of your thesis or dissertation, which is ultimately deposited in the University Library, becomes a permanent and official record.

REFERENCES

- [1] Joseph Gibaldi and Walter S. Achtert. MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers, Theses and Dissertations. Modern Language Association of America, 4 edition, 1980.
- [2] William Strunk, Jr, Elwyn Brooks White, and Roger Angell. The Elements of Style. Longman, 4 edition, 2000.
- [3] University of Chicago Press. The Chicago Manual of Style. University of Chicago Press, 15 edition, 2003.